Nothing but an earthquake ean stop local a spite of the storm which made Morris Park yesterday afternoon about the most desolate pleasure resort on the face of the earth, the sport went on as per schedle and 8,000 fanatical turf followers were on hand, many of them with wet feet and soaking garments. Even women to the number of 500 turned out and sat huddled ogether in the grand stand while the flerce plasts from the Sound swept rain into every nook and corner of the big structure. The betting ring was the most comfortable place at the track and it was thickly populated

The card was greatly reduced as to the number of starters, but that mattered little so long as the chance to speculate remained. The sensation of the day was the disqualifica-tion of John A. Drake's Jocund, in the fourth race, for two-year-olds, at a mile. It was the first event exclusively for horses of this age at the distance that has been run this year, and Jocund ruled a hot favorite at 7 to 10. Mr. Drake's commission was large and far reaching, all the books getting a piece of it. The form players followed him. too, with remarkable confidence. Sydney Paget's Ormonde's Right was a magnetic second choice at 8 to 5, with Palette and Champlain each backed by many to split the two selections. The start was good for all except Ormonde's Right, who propped himself as he did in a race at Saratoga and was practically left. Palette showed the way to the turn, where O'Neill took Jocund to the front. Odom had made up the lost ground with the Paget colt meanwhile, and when the head of the stretch was reached he nooked up with Jocund.

The latter swung wide and carried Ormonde's Right out with her, the Paget colt receiving several bumps. Then, in a heavy drive, the Drake colt drew away and won by half a length in 1:28 2-5. Odom quickly went before the stewards, who, after a short conference, disqualified Jocund, giving the race to Ormonde's Right, with Palette second and Champlain third.

Grenade, a two-vear-old, gave all the way from three to thirty-one pounds to the others, and yet ruled favorite at 5 to 2. Lady Uncas was backed to threes, while E. R. Thomas's Young Henry, carrying 129 pounds, the original favorite, went back in the betting to twos. It was a long, hard drive down the stretch, Young Henry coming from behind under a great ride by Fuller and winning by three parts of a length, with Grenade a head before Wealth, 20 to 1. The time was 1:28 2-5 time was 1:28 2-5.

In the handicap at a mile and a half John Sanford's Caughnawaga, a receding favorite gave thirty-one pounds to Early Eve, backed down to fours, who made all the running, and under a splendid drive from little J. Jones, defeated the Sanford colt by three parts of a length in 2:38 4-5. Warranted, lowered to sixes, was a length and a half away. Tribes Hill, carrying heavy wagers at threes, ran a distressingly bad race.

I. V Bell's Charawind, odds on favorite, galloped off with the hurdle race, at two miles and a quarter, having six lengths to spare. His time, 4:20, clipped seven seconds off the track record, made by Ben Eden in 1898. Gibson Light, 6 to 1, was the place horse, six lengths before Cryptogram, 40 to 1, who led for a mile and a half. The Rival, backed down to fives, ran away a half mile on a false break at the post.

Duelist, running in the colors of John W. Schorr for the first time, won the second race, at six and a half furlongs, Withers course. He was an equal favorite with Highlander at 11 to 5, with a heavy play on both E. R. Thomas's Andrattus and Bill Daly's Locket. Duelist romped away in the stretch and won by three lengths, Locket beating Highlander by a pose in a heavy drive.

Frank Farrell's Monadnock, 8 to 5 favorite, captured the third event, for two-year-olds, at six and a half furlongs, Withers course, but only after being knocked all over the track in the first half mile. Coming into the stretch it did not seem possible for the Farrel cold to get up, but Fuller piled the whip incessantly until both Thistle Heather and Flag Officer began to hang. Then Fuller redoubled his afforts and in the very last jump Monadnock got his nose in front, while the crowd, unmindful of the downpour roared with delight. Thistle Heather was a length and a half in front of Flag Officer, 20 to 1, owned by John Daly. The time was 1:22 4-5. Three favorites won, and Fuller rode two winners.

GOLF. Miss Rhona Adair and Mrs. Charles T. Stou in Final at Merion.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9 .- Fortunately for the players in Mrs. Griscom's invitation tournament at the Merion Cricket Club course, the links is one that does not hold water. and despite the heavy downfall to-day it was possible to continue play. Rubber and oilskin coats and rubber boots were worn by Miss Rhona Adair and nearly all the others, and, as a proof that they did not mind the rain, those not in the cup sets were out in foursomes for the fun of the thing. The final rounds for the three cups will be played o-morrow morning between Miss Rhong Adair and Mrs. Charles T. Stout, when there vill also be a team match, nine a side, in which the American players will oppose an English and Canadian team, at eighteen holes, match play. Miss Rhona Adair, the champion of Great Britain, will lead the op-

A flooded links, with most of the putting greens from four to six feet under water, forced a postponement yesterday of the match play in the open tournament of the Fox Hills Goif Club to Friday and Saturday of next week. In the many hollows were pools of water, and a lake fully 150 yards in length was on the fair green to the tenth hole. An incident of the morning was the rescue of a caddie from a watery grave. In the endeavor to retrieve a ball driven from the first tee he waded into a pool, and, stepping into a hole, prompity disappeared from view. The lad couldn't swim, but his yells soon brought aid and he was hauled out. He did not get the ball. not get the ball.

Washington, Oct 9—High, strong winds to-day made golf almost impossible in the match play of the Columbia Club's tournament. Luck was an important factor in all the matches. For the first cup, Andrews, Princeton, defeated Lafferty, Chevy Chase, winner of the Hot Springs tournament last week, by 1 up in nineteen holes in the first round, only to lose to Brooke, Columbia, in the second round, by 3 up and 2 to play. Most of the matches were won by large margins. Besides the semi-finals and finals to-morrow for the three cups in competition, a handicap match will also be played.

STEWARDS INTERVIEW RYAN. Get-Rich-Quick Man May Be Ruled Off the Turf.

John J. Ryan, the get-rich-quick man, who gained notoriety a month ago as a plunger on local racetracks, but who suddenly went West during the Gravesend meeting, returned to this city yesterday, and true to his promise put in an appearance at Morris Park. He took the usual interest in the book made by George Considine and was busy talking with friends when he was quitely notified by Robert Pinkerton that the stew ards of the Jockey Club desired to interview him after the races. Just where the conference was held was not made known, but it is understood that the stewards convened at the Windsor Arcade. It was said that the chief question put to Ryan related to the current report that he was ruled off the Fort Erie track in 1898 for connection with an alleged "ringing" case in which a three-year-old ran as a two-yearold. Several days ago an official of the Western Jockey Club now in this city informed Pinkerton that Ryan had been ruled off at Fort Erie and was not in good standing at Western tracks. It was pointed out to Pinkerton that Ryan was warned off the New Orleans track last winter and in retaliation started the outlaw track at Newport, Ky. Turfmen who knew that Ryan had been sent for by the Jockey Club said last night that if the Fort Jockey Club said last night that if the Fort Erie charges against him should prove to be true the "get-rich-quick" man would prob-ably be notified that in future his presence on the metropolitan tracks was not desired, a hint that Ryan would probably take without a hint that Ryan would probably take without much protest.

Ever since Ryan came East turfmen have been looking for some action on the part of the Jockey Club, if only on general principles. Ryan ceased his plunging before he left here and did no heavy betting yesterday. He denied that he had bet a dollar on The Fiddler in Chicago last Saturday, and also stated that Joe Yeager had not wagered a penny. There was no quorum at the meeting, but one of the stewards said last night that the ruling taken over the Fort Erie matter would be enforced.

one of the stewards said tack marker or uling taken over the Fort Erie matter would be enforced.

McClellan ruled favorite over Low in the betting ring yesterday at odds of 5 to 4. Whitey Langdon made two bets of $4,000 to $5,000 on Low. Fred Walbaum and Joe Vendig taking the Tammany end.

Pinochle is the rage among the bookmakers' clerks and outside men at the track these days. Several games have been played for high stakes. The climax was reached yesterday when Buttermilk Bill, a well known outside man, issued a challenge to play pinochle, best two in three games, with any racetrack expert, for $5,000 a side, referring all those who are inclined to accept the defl to his manager. John McCue, owner of Unmasked and other horses.

The Brighton track was inundated by the flood yesterday, all the horses stabled there being removed. Water to the depth of several inches covered the infield. With fair weather the track will be all right for the opening of the fall meeting on Monday.

PACES ONE MILE TO WAGON IN A RACE IN 2:04 3-4.

E. Smathers Pays $5,000 for Kent, but Falls to Win the Transylvania-Casplan Takes the Big Event at Lexington From the Favorite, Hawthorne.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 9 .- In face of strong wind which blew over the Kentucky Breeders' Association track to-day in the ree-for-all pacing wagon race, Dan R., driven by H. K. Devereux, Cleveland, Ohio, broke the world's record to wagon in a race by going the final heat in 2:04%. This performance and the trotting of the historic l'ransvivania $6.000 race were the marked eatures of another great day's sport. Little Boy, 2:01½, holds the best time made to wagon, which he scored last year at Memphis, driven by his owner, C. K. G. Billings, but that performance was against the

The cool weather had no effect on the attendance, 5,000 persons passing through the gates into the grounds. In the Transylvania the favorite, Hawthorne, was dethroned, the victor being Caspian, owned by C. S. Emery, Cleveland, Ohio, who won in straight heats. This is the first time in years that this famous race has been won in straight heats. Believing after the first heat, in which Kent was second, that gelding had a chance to win the race, E. E. Smathers, the owner of Major Delmar and Sadie Mac, gave $5,000 It was the millionaire New Yorker's desired to win both the Futurity and Transylvania at the same meeting, but, though his purchase also trotted second in the last two chase also trotted second in the last two heats, he was outclassed by the Ohio gelding, who won the last heat and the race in a jog. The slow time of the first heat caused all the drivers to be called into the stand by the judges and cautioned that laying up heats would not be tolerated. Caspian, the heats would not be tolerated. Caspian, the winner, has now captured seven races in nine starts this year. His last start previous to this afternoon was his winning race in the $5,000 Ohio purse at Oakley, Ohio, last week. Bert Shanks, as usual, piloted him to-day and also drove the winner of the 2:13 trot, Norrie.

The 2:25 trot went to Great Spirit, which is owned by United States Senator James W. Bailey, and the 2:19 pace fell in straight heats to Directum Miller, favorites and fielders breaking even on the day. The grandstand applauded Statter Frank Walker for his send off in the 2:19 pace, which, with its fitteen starters, had the biggest field so far of the meeting.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON SAILS. Reticent as to Cup Challeging, but Enthusiastic Over Ocean Race.

Sir Thomas Lipton, Col. D. F. D. Neill, John Westwood and William Duncan sailed for England yesterday morning on the White Star Line steamer Cedric. Sir Thomas and his party boarded the steamer early in the morning, and as the rain was falling in torrents when the steamer was to sail there were very few on the pier to see the Baronet off.

On Thursday evening Sir Thomas was entertained informally by some of his friends. He is rapidly gaining health and strength, and just before the steamer sailed said that he expected that the voyage would do him lots of good, and that he would be in good shape by the time he reached Liverpool.

Sir Thomas declined to talk about yacht racing as far as challenging for the Cup is concerned. That, he said, would depend largely on what the designers on the other side could do, and he would wait to see what could be done.

He was enthusiastic about the race proposed for next year from Sandy Hook to the Needles, and hoped that a large fleet of fine vessels would cross the ocean and take part in the regattas on the other side.

Commodore Tod has already taken up the matter of an ocean race, and he says that he will add a prize of $1,000 for the second boat and smaller prizes for others, according to the number of starters. Commodore Tod says that he already has assurances that Vice-Commodore Morton F. Plant's Ingomar, George Lauder, Jr.'s Endymion and other fast boats will take part in a race across the ocean if one is arranged.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD.

Columbia Meets Williams To-day—Gar Scheduled for Other Tea

The football games scheduled for to-day promise to bring out more interesting play than previous playing days have done, more of the element of closeness being a proba-bility. Wet fields are likely to be the order however, and a wet ball, which will retard speed in formations. But an occasional fumble only increases uncertainty. Harvard's opponent, Amherst, has been putting up a stiff game this season, and so has Brown, which meets Princeton, and Colgate, which tackles Cornell. Not much is known of Yale's opponent, the Springfield Training School, while Williams, which meets Columbia, is reputed to be light and fast. The Williams men gave Harvard a good battle. Pennsylvania has a vigorous opponent in Pennsylvania State College. New York University plays Trinity at Ohio Field.

The Oldridge Boys' High School and Webb Academy teams were to have played at Wash-ington Park this morning, but the rainstorm yesterday flooded the grounds, and the game, if played, will have to be decided elsewhere.

AMHERST, Oct. 9.—The work of Amherst against Colby last Saturday and against Bowdoin yesterday, when she won 22—0 in thirty minutes of play, is very gratifying at just this time, for it shows that contrary to earlier expectations, Amherst will be able to put a good, strong team against Harvard to-morrow and Columbia the following week. The prospects for a good team were anything but bright, with but three of last year's team back and a scarcity of material among the freshmen; but the work on Wednesday against Bowdoin was excellent on defence and offence alike. Four times Amherst carried the ball over by straight rushing, and each half ended with the ball inside the visitors' 5-yard line, while Bowdoin had to punt every one of the five times she got the ball. The team is playing fast and hard ball and improving every day. Howard, who has played centre for three years, has been moved over to guard and his place filled by Behrens, last year's scrub centre. The back field is both fast and heavy. Hubbard, a freshman, is doing fine work at right half, while the other half back position is filled by Shay, '04, captain of the baseball team, who has not been able to play since his freshman year on account of injuries received that season

The New York University football team opens its season this afternoon at Ohio Field with a game against the Trinity eleven. Prospects for the New York team have Improved considerably during the week. The I ine has been strengthened and increased in weight by the addition of Callahan from the medical school at left tackle and Koller and Lane as guards. The greatest strength of the team, however, lies in the backs, Tuthill, McDowell and Rogge, who are doing admirable work. Practice yesterday was confined to signals and offensive work for the linemen. On account of the condition of the field the team practiced in the gymnasium.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Oct. 9.—After a light practice yesterday afternoon on account of the heavy rain the Williams squad, numbering twenty men, left for New York this afternoon for the contest against Columbia. Manager Kennedy expected to put the team up at the Murray Hill Hotel, the regular quarters for the Williams athletic teams when in the city. The college hopes to be able to get a good line on the team's ability through their showing against a team which has run up such high scores against Union and Hamilton. During the past ten days Coach O'Neill has accomplished wonders in developing a quick, and at the same time strong, offence. The Williams style of game effective against a heavier team. The back field is intact with the exception of Jayne, who was hurt in the Harvard game. Williams, his substitute, however, is playing a strong game at quarter back. With such speedy halves as Watson and Gutterson a hard, dry field will be to the advantage of the Berkshire eleven. As a whole the team is in excellent physical condition. In case of accidents, however, Durfee at full and Brown and C. Judson at halves make strong substitutes for the regular back field. In all probability the same team will face Columbia as defeated the "Aggies" on Wednesday. WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Oct. 9 .- After

A hard game confronts Columbia this afternoon when her eleven meets the Williams team at the Polo Grounds Williams is by no means a fee to be despised on the gridiron, and not long ago held Harvard to a score of 17-0. Columbia has always found Williams a difficult opponent, more difficult, in fact, than some teams with bigger reputations. In 1900 Williams and Columbia played to a tie score of 0-0, and the year following Columbia won by only 5-0. For the past two years Columbia has not played Williams. Columbia will be handicapped by the absence of Frambach and Stangland, who are incapacitated. Both teams will probably find good playing very difficult because of the wet, slippery gridiron. The probable line-up for Columbia is: Left end, Bishop: left tackle, Brown; left guard, Tomlinson; centre; Landers; right guard, Sedgewick; right tackle, T. Thorpe: right end, Buell: quarter back, Jones; left half back, Metzenthin; right half back, Duell; full back, Smith. On Thursday evening Sir Thomas was en-

PENNINGTON, N. J., Oct. 9.—The Athletic Association of the seminary has sprung a great surprise on the institution and football candidates by securing the services of Balliet, the noted Princeton centre, to coach the team. In securing Balliet the association has done something which the team was greatly in need of. Balliet will divide his time between the seminary and Princeton teams, but his contract will give the former eight afternoons to begin with. Balliet will be of great benefit to the seminary teams as they are greatly in need of instruction in line playing, which he is exceedingly well acquainted with.

$12,000 FOR STALWART. V. C. Whitney Anxious to Repurchase the Colt From E. R. Thomas.

At the sale of horses in training and year-lings belonging to W. C. Whitney at Morris Park yesterday, E. R. Thomas, represented by his partner, Alexander Shields, bought the two-year-old colt Stalwart, who won the Champagne Stakes from Pulsus on Wednesday, for pagne Stakes from Pulsus on Wednesday, for $12,000. When the colt had been knocked down to Shields Mr. Whitney expressed a desire to repurchase Stalwart at the price paid, but the animal was sent away to the Thomas-Shields barn. Seventeen head, owned by Mr. Whitney, realized $32,575. Perry Belmont's River Pirate was sold to R. W. Walden for $5,600. The sale was as follows:

WITNESS HELD FOR FIVE DAYS.

DELAYS OVER A TRIVIAL CASE VEX A PHILADELPHIAN.

Volunteered to Testify, but Wished to Return Home to Attend to Business When Hearing Was Postponed—Sent to the House of Detention Instead.

After being held in this city for five days against his will and through no fault of his own, Kurst Bousohl of Philadelphia recovered yesterday from the City Chamberlain $100, which he had put up as cash bail to get out of the House of Detention, and returned to his home. He was at first a voluntary witness and afterward a witness in spite of himself in a trivial case which has been pending before Magistrate Pool in the Jefferson Market police court since Monday morning. Bousohl said yesterday that he wouldn't volunteer again as a witness until he kad found out what sort of a Magistrate was going to hear the case. The Philadelphia man was riding up Broadway last Sunday night in a street car when a young woman got aboard and sat near him. A second or so later an excited young man jumped aboard the car and spoke to the woman. She hit him in the face. There was a lot of excitement among the passengers and Policeman Bourg of the Tenderloin station arrested the woman, who said she was Nellie Burke of 115 West Thirty-fifth street. The man she had slapped said that he was Alfred Sellinger of 40 East Thirtieth street, a wrong address. He accused the woman of stealing $4 from him on the street just before she got on the car. Robbery was the principal compaint and the punching episode was only incidental.

Mr. Bousohl knew nothing about the alleged robbery and had never before seen Sellinger or the Burke woman, but on the impulse of the mement he volunteered to tell what had happened on the car. When the case was called in the Jefferson Market rolling count the next morning Magistrate. police court the next morning Magistrate Pool adjourned it for two days at the request of the woman.

Bousohl said that it would be impossible for him to attend, as his business made it on Monday night.

"I guess you'll be here," said the Magistrate, smiling at the joke he was about to play on the witness. "I'll send you to the House of Detention to make sure of your presence here on Wednesday."

Then the astonished Philadelphian was taken by a policeman to the House of De-tention, where he was locked up for two hours. He learned that by depositing $100 in cash he would be released, so he put up his bail. On Wednesday Magistrate Pool adjourned the case again, because he wasn't able to handle all of the court business for the day. Bcusohl again said that he ought to return to Philadelphia, but got no satisfaction. In the meantime Selno satisfaction. In the meantime Sellinger had changed his address and said that he lived at 130 East Forty-third street. He is not known there. The case was called for the third time on Thursday. The woman was in court and Thursday. The woman was in court and so was Bousohl, but the complainant failed to appear. Magistrate Pool adjourned the case again until yesterday, and told Bousohl that be must surely appear. He did, and so did the woman, but the complainant was again absent.

The Burke woman denied that she had robbed Sellinger. She said that she hit him because he insulted her. Magistrate Pool dismissed the complaint against her. Bruschl said it had cost him more than troots be detained here but that he didn't $100 to be detained here, but that he didn't want to get into trouble by jumping his

FOR INTIMIDATING NEGROES. White Citizens of Arkansas Indicted, Charged With Conspiracy. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 9.-Twenty-seven indictments have been returned in the federal court at Helena, Ark., against white citizens of Cross and Poinsett counties, that State, charging them with conspiracy to deprive certain negro citizens of rights guaranteed them under the Constitution.

Twelve of the defendants are from Wynne and are charged with driving negroes from farms of that county and with conspiracy to prevent them from acquiring and owning property. The twelve men are also charged with murder, it being alleged that they killed a private detective from Memphis who went there in connection with whitecapping cases.

The remainder of the defendants are from

Whitehall, and the same charge is registered against them with the exception of the

HAMILTON FISH DOING WELL, But Whether an Operation Will Be Necessary or Not Is Still Uncertain.

Hamilton Fish, Assistant Treasurer of the United States, who is ill of appendicitis at the Republican Club in West Fortieth street, was said last evening to be improv-ing. It was expected at the club last night that he will be able to be moved to his home in Garrison on Sunday.

Dr. Robert Abbé was with Mr. Fish yesterday. Dr. Abbé said that his patient was "doing nicely." He would not undertake to predict whether an operation would be necessary or not. Old Elevated Locomotives Sent to China.

The Land of Beautiful Calm

It is a land where we would some of us like to be in these days of political snarls. It is Corea. Two columns of bright fact and comment on the quaintnesses of Corean life—the men who stay home and the women who gad about at night; the bachelors who are made to talk baby talk until they marry or die, and all the other funny ways of a funny, pretty people.

It is an article characteristic of THE SUNDAY SUN. It amuses and it is worth knowing. It does not read as though it came out of the pages of a school geography. It is not decorated with pictures showing how a Corean's liver looks when it has been boiled in nitro-glycerine.

THE SUNDAY SUN IS THE

Sunday Newspaper FOR YOU TO READ.

> Try this one Corean sample. You will Stick to the rest of it until you have read the whole publication.

Among other things you will find the tragedy of a foolhardy cowboy's battle with a grizzly bear, told by a man who knows cowboys and grizzlies as few living men do, a few disrespectful remarks about people who try to "spot ringers" at the race tracks by a man who joyfully describes the stewards as "champing their chewing gum" in their great emotion; a study of the growth and character of a New York gang of ambitiously bad young men, written out of careful, if cheerful, investigation, and not out of a romantic imagination; the wonderful history of the tunnel which a desperate convict dug out of Clinton Prison, two and three minutes at a time, for four years: a yarn of indians by a veteran carrier of the Deadwood mail: the romantic tales of a Boston girl who risks her life every few days in the effort to become a newspaper heroine—her principal joy is setting herself adrift, half naked, in an open boat; the girl bandits of the East Side; a most remarkable sailor tale about the way a fortune teller foresaw sharks in a sailorman's fate and proved a good prophet.

All These and Many More. WHO WOULDN'T READ

THE SUNDAY SUN?

Things that women will look for in THE SUNDAY SUN are no less remarkable than the general reading.

A careful and painstaking discussion of the coming vogue of the fuller skirt. The annua! alarm about the probable return of crinoline is sounded. Sleeves are going to be monstrous large, This isn't the place for the horrible details-they'll all be printed on Sunday. Then there is a vivacious article by a leading fashion authority on the killing lure of attention to detail in costumes which characterizes the American young woman and helps her to lure the helpless things in trousers. The pictures with THE SUN-DAY SUN'S Fashion Articles are not puzzie pictures. They are the sort that you can take to the dressmaker and hold under her nose while you lay down the law.
